

Selene E. Psoma

Selene E. Psoma is Professor of ancient History at the National and Kapodistrian University of Athens. She studied History and Archaeology at the University of Athens, Ancient Greek History, Numismatics and Epigraphy at the École Pratique des Hautes Études (EPHE) and the Sorbonne-Paris IV/ France, and also attended courses (Oberseminar) of Ancient Greek History at the University of Cologne/Germany. She received her PHD from Paris IV – La Sorbonne in 1996 and her Habilitation from the same university in 2006.

She has published a monograph on the history and coinage of the Chalcidic League (Stuttgart 2001: Franz Steiner Verlag), a volume of Macedonian coins in the Sylloge Nummorum Graecorum series (with I. P. Touratsoglou, Athens 2005: Academy of Athens), the Epigraphic Corpus of the Inscriptions of Aegean Thrace (with L. D. Loukopoulou et al., Athens 2005: The National Hellenic Research Foundation), the excavation coins of the two sites of Maroneia (with contributions of the excavators about the archaeological background, Athens 2008: Μελετήματα 62, The National Hellenic Research Foundation), a collective volume of essays on the topics of History and Historical topography of Aegean Thrace (with with L. D. Loukopoulou, Athens 2008: ΜΕΛΕΤΗΜΑΤΑ 58, The National Hellenic Research Foundation) and over ninety (90) articles focused on numismatics, epigraphy, onomastics, law, history and historical topography.

Her monograph on the history, onomastics and prosopography of Ancient Corcyra is under publication (2019) and she is currently preparing another monograph on the Thracian Chersonese and the so-called “coinage of the Thracian Chersonese”.

Her future project is to write a commentary of Xenophon’s Hellenica and [Aristotle’s] second book of Economics.

Full CV:

http://en.arch.uoa.gr/fileadmin/arch.uoa.gr/uploads/cvs/psoma_en.pdf

<https://uoa.academia.edu/SelenePsoma>